

ABSTRACT: This overview discusses the connection between two subdisciplines of AI, Automated Reasoning and Knowledge Representation. The state of the art in Automated Reasoning is briefly indicated and its relation to Logic Programming and Knowledge Representation is presented. The issue of Knowledge Management is addressed via a case study.